

Microsoft Office Button

The Microsoft Office Button performs many of the functions that were located in the File menu of older versions of Access. This button allows you to create a new database, open an existing database, save and save as, print, send, or close.

