Faculty – Using Turnitin to Check for Plagiarism

Setting Up an Assignment to Use Turnitin

1. Click “Add item to module” in the module where you wish to add the assignment.

2. Select “Assignment” from the menu and continue with the instructions as shown:

3. To continue on to edit the new Assignment, click on the assignment you just created in your module.

4. Click the “Edit Assignment” button on the right side of the screen.
5. Notice the editing options below. The tools shown below are similar to those of a word processor, and exist for discussions, assignments, announcements and other content forms in Canvas.

6. Type some content into your page.

If you visit Metacritic.com, you will see numerous critiques of movies by both professional film critics and by amateur film viewers. Choose a movie from the list of films, and write your own critique that captures something about the movie's:

- Artistic style
- Entertainment Value
- Relevance to contemporary issues.
- Potential influence on society.

You may go ahead and upload a Word document (2-3 pages, double-spaced), or type directly into the text box.

Then, review each other's critiques using peer reviews (which will open on May 9th).
7. Select “Enable Turnitin Submission Evaluations”.

8. Optional: Click “Advanced Settings” to make further adjustments to settings. When finished, click “Update Settings”.

9. Decide on the type(s) of online submissions you will accept, then click “more options”.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Decide on the types of submissions you will allow for students.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>then choose</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Notify users that this content has changed</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
10. Choose among the variety of options before you:

11. When finished, click “Update Assignment”.